

Dear friend,

As you have probably guessed by now, I LOVE adventures. Trying new things and exploring interesting places makes my whiskers tingle with excitement.

And since I have been travelling the world, I have learnt lot of important things including:

- how to say HELLO in other languages
- the best way to make sushi
- why pandas are so cuddly

But do you know what the most AMAZING thing I have discovered is?

I've learnt that the very best adventure of all is FRIENDSHIP! That's right! The thing that makes life wonderful is the people (or animals) that we share it with. And I feel so lucky that I have been able to share mine with someone as special as you.

Please keep reading, keep writing and promise me that you'll keep using your gigantic imagination: you can go anywhere in the universe with that!

Thank you for being my friend.

Stay fantastic,
Banjo x
